

TWO WOMEN SAVED FROM OPERATIONS

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—Their Own Stories Here Told.

Beatrice, Neb.—“Just after my marriage my left side began to pain me and the pain got so severe at times that I suffered terribly with it. I visited three doctors and each one wanted to operate on me but I would not consent to an operation. I heard of the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was doing for others and I used several bottles of it with the result that I haven't been bothered with my side since then. I am in good health and I have two little girls.”—Mrs. R. B. Child, Beatrice, Neb.

The Other Case.

Cary, Maine.—“I feel it a duty I owe to all suffering women to tell what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. One year ago I found myself a terrible sufferer. I had pains in both sides and such a soreness I could scarcely straighten up at times. My back ached, I had no appetite and was so nervous I could not sleep, then I would be so tired mornings that I could scarcely get around. It seemed almost impossible to move or do a bit of work and I thought I never would be any better until I submitted to an operation, but my husband thought I had better write to you and I did so, stating my symptoms. I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt like a new woman. I had no pains, slept well, had good appetite and could do almost all my own work for a family of four. I shall always feel that I owe my good health to your Vegetable Compound.”—Mrs. HAYWARD SOWERS, Cary, Maine.

A pretty wedding took place in Mittineague, Mass., Saturday at 3:30 o'clock, when Miss Edith Applin, daughter of Mrs. Alice C. Applin and the late E. M. Applin, became the bride of Raymond H. Flagg, son of Mrs. Emily M. Flagg of Mittineague. The ceremony took place in the couple's new home at 31 Boulevard street, Rev. L. W. Staples of Springfield, Mass., formerly of Mittineague, officiating. The couple were unattended. The ushers at the reception included John S. Hannum of Ludlow, George H. Anderson of Springfield and Richard Lamb, jr., of New York. Miss Ruth Flagg, sister of the bridegroom, played the chorus from Lohegrin and Mendelssohn's wedding march. The bride wore a gown of white crepe de chine with a tulle veil, and the bride wore the gift of the bridegroom, a beautiful diamond pendant, suspended from a pretty gold chain. A reception followed the wedding, the house being attractively decorated with fall flowers and foliage. Mrs. George Cookley taking charge of the reception. The gifts received by the young couple included a handsome mahogany desk presented by the friends of the bride at the Five Cents savings bank and a beautiful lamp presented by the fellow-employees of the bridegroom at the Springfield Safe Deposit and Trust company. They received many other handsome gifts, including cut glass, linon, china and silver. The out-of-town guests present at the wedding included friends and relatives from Greenfield, Charlestown, Hartford, Conn., New York, Brattleboro, Boston, Springfield, Heath, Colrain and New Haven, Conn. The couple left by automobile for a two-weeks' wedding trip and will be at home after December 1 at their new home.

The bride went to Springfield from this town several years ago, and has been connected with the Five Cent savings bank some time. Mr. Flagg has always lived in Mittineague. He has been with the Springfield safe deposit and trust company several years. The guests from Brattleboro were Mrs. Applin, Miss Mabel Applin, teacher in the high school building, Mrs. M. J. Tucker, George R. Tucker and Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Moran.

INDUSTRIES DAY THROUGH VERMONT

Proposal Made That Civic and Commercial Organizations Visit Factories and Other Plants.

The Greater Vermont association is proposing the establishment of a Vermont Industries Day, a day set apart for the visiting of local factories and industrial plants by the members of commercial and civic organizations throughout Vermont. The following letter, seeking the cooperation of manufacturers and boards of trade, has been sent out by the secretary of the association:

Gentlemen:—During the last few months the thoughts of the people of Vermont have been turned very strongly to ward agriculture. None of the 14 counties have been organized for the support of county agents who will advise with the farmers and improve agricultural conditions. Five counties now have agents at work. In counties not yet organized boards of trade have taken up with the office of Farm Management at Washington the problems of county organization and the ultimate securing of advisers for their counties.

It is now high time to bring forcibly to the attention of Vermonters and of the people of other states that there is not only "an AGRICULTURAL VERMONT," but also "an INDUSTRIAL VERMONT." Neither the outside world nor we ourselves begin to appreciate the quantity or the quality of the industrial output of the Green Mountain state. There is a conventional notion abroad that Vermont is an agricultural state with almost no industrial realizations or possibilities.

The Vermonters are too often ignorant of the industries at their very doors. And yet, through personal experiences, through direct observation, every citizen ought to become a WELL-INFORMED AND INTELLIGENTLY ENTHUSIASTIC ADVERTISER FOR HIS HOME INDUSTRIES. How can this be accomplished? If manufacturers and boards of trade approve and will co-operate, the Greater Vermont association will be happy to set in motion throughout the state a plan for a "VERMONT INDUSTRIES DAY," a day especially set apart during which the manufacturers will hold open house for visitors, will be at home to the members of the civic and commercial organizations of their communities. Such a day would make our industrial activities bulk larger in the interest of the people would make our industrial possibilities evident and convincing.

An intimate acquaintance with local enterprises can be secured by the citizen only through the cooperation of the manufacturers with the members of civic and commercial organizations. IF THE MANUFACTURERS AS HOSTS AND GUIDES WILL EXTEND INVITATIONS TO LOCAL ORGANIZATIONS the response will be hearty, and decided benefits will accrue to all concerned.

If this plan for a "Vermont Industries Day" is carried out IN THE ENTIRE COMMONWEALTH ON THE SAME DATE, it will have a good effect on ourselves, and upon the people of other states, who will become interested and attentive. A "Vermont Industries Day" will advertise that there is an "Industrial Vermont," and this will force us to enlarge it.

What do you think of the plan? Will you co-operate? What are your suggestions?

Yours very truly,
JAMES P. TAYLOR,
Secretary.

WOODEN SHOES MADE IN UNITED STATES

Beech Wood Put to Wide Range of Uses—Freedom from Taste Fits It for Contact with Food.

In this country beech is the favorite material for wooden shoes, the manufacture of which has reached considerable proportions in the United States according to the department of agriculture, which has just issued a bulletin on the use of the wood. These shoes, the department says, cost from 60 to 75 cents a pair and are good for two years. They are worn by those who have to work in cold or wet places, such as tanneries, breweries, and dairy stables, and by workmen in steel mills and glass factories who must walk on hot grates or floors. Farmers, too, are classed among the users. Beech wood is put to a very much wider range of uses than the average person would be likely to suspect. The department says beech enters into hundreds of articles from hobbyhorse rockers to butchers' blocks. We walk on beech floors, eat off beech picnic plates, carry beech baskets, play with beech toys, sit on beech chairs, and in dozens of other ways use articles made of beech almost every day of our lives. Its freedom from taste fits the wood especially for articles which come in contact with foodstuffs, and beech meat boards, stevens, lard tubs, butter boxes, sugar hogsheads, refrigerators, dishes, spoons and scoops are widely used.

Only one species of beech grows naturally in the United States, but few trees in this country have a wider commercial range. It extends from the Gulf of Mexico into eastern Canada, and in practically every place where it grows it is cut for market. The total yearly output of beech wood in the United States is approximately 500 million board feet.

DIVER LOCATES LOST TREASURE

Finds Steamer Sunk Off Golden Gate 12 Years Ago With $2,000,000 in Gold on Board.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—What may be the wreck of the steamship City of Rio de Janeiro, which was sunk inside the entrance to the Golden Gate February 22, 1901, with a loss of 122 lives and billion valued at $2,000,000, has been located by Herman Stelzner, a diver who made the descent in 128 feet of water in a diving device which he invented. Incidentally Stelzner set a new mark for divers in his descent of 128 feet. The previous greatest depth attained is said to be 92 feet.

In describing his descent, Stelzner said: "The tide was ebbing fast on the surface, but below there seemed to be the center of an eddy where the water was practically still. The ship must have been carried inward until it reached the eddy and has remained there ever since."

The vessel is supposed to have torn her bottom out on the Mile Rock before the light was built there.

Stelzner will leave at once for Japan, where he has a contract to search for lost vessels, but a San Francisco diver who has bought the new diving device will continue to seek the treasure in the wreck.

GERMANY GROWS RICH.

Leads Countries of Europe in Aggregate Wealth.

Germany is now the richest country in Europe, with an aggregate wealth of about $74,000,000,000, and an annual income for its people of about $9,524,000,000. Such are the conclusions of Dr. Karl Helfferich, a director of the Deutsche bank and one of the most eminent financial authorities of Germany. He finds that the national wealth of Germany is greater than that of Great Britain or France, as estimated by the economists of those countries, although the latter have a greater wealth per head, owing to their smaller populations. He estimates the wealth of the average German at between $1074 and $1190, as compared with an English estimate of $1214 for England, and a French estimate for France of $1405, and with the estimate of the census bureau for the United States of $1310. In earning or income capacity, however, the average German lies between the Englishman and the Frenchman, the German income being estimated at $127, the French (by the French authority) at $122, while the Briton is far in the lead with an income of $194.

One of the most striking features of Dr. Helfferich's calculations, however, is the tremendous growth in the earning capacity of the German people, which may soon bring the nation to the same position of financial predominance in Europe as it now possesses in military power. He estimates the annual income of the German nation about 1895 at between $5,250,000,000 to 6,000,000,000; at present, 18 years later, it has grown, he estimates, to $9,524,000,000, and he claims that if the annual savings of the people and the latent growth of land and other values be combined, a total addition to the national wealth of about $2,380,000,000 is registered every year.

Except for quarters for the 2,000 or more operatives who will be needed in connection with the canal and the Panama railroad, the canal zone will be a sort of military reservation.

The scenery in the southern part of Lower California is said to rival that of the Grand Canyon of Colorado, and when lines of communication are established it will probably attract many tourists.

HINSDALE, N. H.

VERDICT FOR LISCOM.

Jury Awards Him $100 on Account of Changes in Grade.

The suit of Lemuel F. Liscom against the town of Hinsdale for damages alleged to have been caused to his property on the Brattleboro road in Hinsdale by changes in the grade of the road was finished in Keene a little after 5 o'clock Friday afternoon and given to the jury. About 2 o'clock Saturday morning a verdict for the plaintiff to recover $100 was found. Mr. Liscom alleged that the changes in the grade had made the front entrance to his home of little value. The evidence was finished early in the afternoon and the arguments and charge to the jury occupied the rest of the time. Benton & Pickard represented the plaintiff and C. H. Hersey and E. J. Temple the defendant town.

D. J. Roy of Boston came Saturday for a short stay in town.

Edward Hall of Mr. Clemens, Mich., came Saturday to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hall.

Miss Cora Dexter entertained the Nameless Five at her bungalow on the Northfield road Saturday.

Mrs. Charles Fletcher returned home Thursday from a visit with relatives in Hartford, Conn.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Belleville of South Chatham, Mass., came this day to visit relatives. Mr. Belleville returned home Friday, but Mrs. Belleville will remain a week.

Miss Margaret Dempsey and Michael Dempsey went Saturday to Derry, N. H., to visit their sister, Mrs. D. J. Casey. From Derry Mr. Dempsey will return to his work in New York city.

The harvest ball given by the junior class of the high school in the town hall Friday evening was well attended and a very enjoyable affair. The farce-comedy, When Women Vote, was presented in a very creditable way and caused much laughter. Following the play several hours of dancing were enjoyed, with music by Lyman's orchestra.

WEST CHESTERFIELD, N. H.

Mrs. G. F. Burnham has been ill with mumps.

Mrs. C. A. Clark of Springfield, Mass., spent a part of last week with relatives and friends here.

C. W. Chamberlain of this place has been ill the past week, requiring the attendance of a physician.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Davis and family of Greenfield, Mass., were in town to attend the funeral of Mrs. Davis's brother, George Davenport.

Fifteen members of the local Grange attended the special meeting of the Cheshire County Pomona Grange at Spofford Oct. 15. M. M. Smith took a lead in his automobile.

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Joslyn of this place was taken seriously ill last week Thursday and in spite of the doctor's efforts he continued to grow worse until Friday evening, when he died. Spinal meningitis is thought to have been the cause of death.

NEWFANE.

Serious Runaway Accident.

Fred Smith of West Brattleboro, who has been picking apples on the Ambrose farm, met with a serious accident on his way home Saturday night with a two-horse wagon filled with barrels of fruit. A little past 6 o'clock he stopped at the watering trough by the Gates place to water the horses, and had unchecked them, but before he could get the reins in hand the animals started to run. Mr. Smith fell from the pole of the loaded wagon, to which his carriage was attached, falling back of the horses so that one wheel passed over his right leg above the knee. The harness broke and the horses were thrown in their swift flight so that a wheel passed over the colt, which was badly injured. Stephen Foster, who lives near, came to his assistance and called William Hazelton, and Leslie Stratton, who was returning home, aided in taking Mr. Smith to A. L. Lockwood's house.

Dr. P. P. White was summoned to attend him. Besides the severe injury to his right leg Mr. Smith was badly bruised and his left shoulder was hurt, but no bones were broken.

R. C. Aseltine of St. Albans, a canvasser, left here Monday for London-derry.

Mrs. G. K. Cherric returned last week from a visit of several weeks in New York.

R. R. Rhoades left Saturday for a few days' visit in the home of his mother, Mrs. Elvora Rhoades, in Windham.
